AMERICAN GIRL MARRIES PRINCE

First Royal Wedding in Scotland Since Time of Mary, Queen of Scots GIVES GROOM GIFT

Notable Gathering of Royalty at Nuptials of Miss Stewart and Prince De Braganza

Emperor of Austria Creates Beautiful American Heiress Princess in Her Own Right Catholic Church Ceremony

(Special from United Press.) Dingwall, Scotland, Sept. 15.-An ther American heliess joined the anks of the European nobility at hoon day, when Miss Anita Stewart of ow York, daughter of Mrs. James Smith, was married to the Prince De Braganza, son of the pre ender to the Portuguese throne. It was the first "royal wedding" cel-brated in Scotland since the days of Queen of Scots, and the little Lawrence's Roman Catholic h, where the nuptials were celeoric function.

Sixty Seaforth Highlanders piped the ousic for the wedding. For the rince, the Austrian anthem was layed and when the bride entered the ayed and when the bride entered, the hrill notes of the Star Spangled Ban-er greeted the audience. The Highlanders, also played the lendelssohn Wedding March as the ride, on the arm of her brother, Wil-am Rhinelander Stewarf, walked to

The Prince looked imposing in a maltese uniform of brilliant scarlet, neavily decorated with gold. The bride wore an under-dress of emproidered mousseline de sole, with a court train of embroidered satin. Her only ornament was the gift of the bridegroom, a family heirloom in the shape of a jewel of two diamond and sapphire feathers, which for 200 years was among the Crown jewels of Portugal.

The oremony was performed by the Bishop of Aberheen and the chapel was crowded by a distinguished croup of friends and relatives from the United States, Austria. Spain and Portugal. Among the notables present were the Duke and Duchess of Bragansa, the Prince's father and stepmother; Archduchess Maria Therese of Austria: Count Czeckenis, the Austria; Count Czeckenis, the Aus-a Ambassador in London, who spe-y represented Emperor Frang Jo-14 Austrian and Portuguese Prin-ser, 14 Austrian and Fortuguese Frinces and Princesses, all aunts, stepsisters and brothers of the bridegroom; Mrs. Bradley Martin and Mrs. Anthony Drexel, aunt of the bride, with her three children.

The wedding party motored from Tulical Castle, the temporary home of Mr. Smith, to the church. The service was brief and within 15 minutes from the time Miss Stewart entered the chapel, she emerged the Princess chapel, she emerged the Princess Breganza, a title that may be la-dropped for that of the Duchess of

After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at Tulock Castle. The couple then departed for the continent on a honeymoon.

Among the wedding presents, the total value of which was several cundred thousand dollars, was the patent from Emperor Franz Josef creating the bride a Princess in her own right.

This was not intended by the Emperor and wedding present but the

The new Princess, who is 24 years old, met the Prince in Paris last April With characteristic impetuosity, the Prince began almost immediately to pay court to the fair American, who had already made many social con-quests in London and the continent. When the London season epened, he followed her there. He never missed an opportunity to be with her and it was evident from the first that the Prince had at last been smitten hard.

On July 8, Mrs. Smith gave her final social function in London. It was a big affair and society had an inkling of the trend of the events by witnessing the Prince in almost constant at-tendance upon the daughter of the hostess. The next day the Austrian embassy announced the engagement of embassy announced the engagement of Miss Stewart and the Prince. Mrs. Smith is understood to have settled a million dollars upon the Prince.

Big Consignment of Coal

One of the largest consignments of coal received in this city for sometime is now lying opposite the wharf of A. McNeil & Son. It consists of five large boat loads bought especially for the concern's household trade and there is approximately 3,000 tons in the entire consignment. Four of the boats lying abreast at the firm's wharf take up a great deal of the room of the harbor and last night a schooner coming from up the river was obliged to wait for highwater so that it could run in close to the west shore and clear the big coal barges.

MANUFACTURING PLANT ON MARKET

W. G. Rowell Foundry Co. Was Backed By Miller

TWO OFFERS RECEIVED

The W. G. Rowell Company, brass and bronze foundry, which passed into the hands of Frank Miller last week is on the market either for sale or for lease. Michael J. Jordan has charge of the matter for Mr. Miller and has been in communication with two pros pective purchasers in New York and one in Cleveland, Ohio. The business of the company had been in a prosperous condition until the sudden tightening of the money market a year ago. It never recovered from the loss suffered at that time. Frank Miller had been a steady backer of the concern and in the end purchased it to protect himself. For the past five years it has been an in-corporated company under the laws of Connecticut, capitalized at $60,000. The Connecticut, capitalized at $60,000. The property has a frontage on Water street of 73 feet and about 150 feet on Thomas street. There is one building of three stories and a large high roofed foundry where bronze and metal castings are made. W. G. Rowell is at present the traveling representative of an iron company of Philadelphia.

RICHEST GIRL IN THE WORLD

Young Daughter of Late Francis H. Leggett, N. Y. Wholesale Grocer

SEARCHING FOR WILL

(Special from United Press.) New York, Sept. 15.—Relatives of the ate Francis H. Leggett, wholesale grocer, today began a search for the will of the dead millionaire, whose estate is valued at $15,000,000, and unless such a document can be found his 12ear-old daughter, Frances, will be-ome the richest girl in the world. She is the heir-at-law, her mother, who was formerly Mrs. William Sturges, widow of a Chicago banker, only coming in for a dower share if the will is not found. Leggett was buried yes-terday.

ROBBED HOME OF MANAGER RITCHEL

The money and jewelry were taken from one of the upper rooms of the house while the family was away. Ritchel suspected DeWolfe and told his suspicion to the police. Patrolman Hayes arrested DeWolfe at a boarding house on State street, and found $40 there. DeWolfe had a gun on him. Once before he stole $65 from Ritchel. He lived with Ritchel at one time and threatened to shoot him.

WHY PEARY TOOK OIL KING'S BROTHER NOW A MEMBER NO WHITE MAN TO NORTH POLE

Announces that He Wanted All of the Glory for Himself

Says He'll Say No More About Cook for Pres-

Harry Whitney, New Haven Hunter, Told Him Nothing About Cook, He Says

(Special from United Press.) New York, Sept. 15 .- Polar scientists re to-day commenting on the interview given out by Commander Pears at Battle Harber last night, in which he declined to add any more details to his previous story of his dash to the Pole or to say anything more re garding his controversy with Dr. Cook Peary declared that if he said anything more, the information thus giv en out might be used by others, intimating that rival claimaints migh use this information for their own purposes.

Commander Peary declared most emphatically that he had never opened or read any of Dr. Cook's personal letters or data. He said Harry Whitney, the young New Haven sportsman, in whose care Dr. Cook had left much of his written data and his astronomical instruments, had not discussed Dr. Cook's claims with him. Whitney, he said, was on board The Jeanle, hunting Polar bear and musk oxen on the western coast of Greenland. Peary declined to discuss Whitney's reasons for leaving the Rossevelt though Dr. declined to discuss Whitney's reasons for leaving the Roosevelt, though Dr. Hansen, the noted Danish physician who has been in the far North, studying eye diseases, declares Whitney had been ousted from Dr. Cook's house at Annotok by Peary's giant boatswain and treated "like a dog" all winter, and that the hunter had no love for Commander Peary or the members of his party.

Commander Peary declared he had talked with Dr. Cook's Eskimo guides and that they had confirmed his statements that Cook did not reach the Pole. He added that no presents could ever induce the Eskimos to make the dash across the Polar seas until he went to Greenland, as the Eskimos foared death there.

Peary declares he intends to wait until Dr. Cook has given out his entire authorized account of reaching the Pole before "proving" Cook is an impostor. This, Cook's friends declare, is a manifest injustice. They say Cook has set forward his claims and that many scientists have accepted them as true. Nevertheless, they say, Cook must remain under the imputa-Cook must remain under the imputa-tion until Peary sees fit to give out his side and prove Cook an impostor or fall to do so.
In the meantime, Cook's friends are preparing to give him a royal reception when he lands in New York. They have chartered a steamer that will carry 3,500 people to meet the Oscar II down the bay.

The question of the participation of the Roosevelt and the John R. Brad-ley, the Cook boat, in the water parade incident to the Hudson-Fulton cele-bration, is still being debated. The Peary Arctic Club has shown a disposition to withdraw the Roosevelt if the Bradley is allowed a place in the procession. Peary, at Battle Harbor. has been quoted as saying this would be left to the club to decide. The Cook followers are strong in their demand that a place of honor shall be reserved for the John R. Bradley. The Roosevelt may not arrive in New York in time to participate in the parade, but if she does, there is certain to be much bitter feeling engendered.

Police Still Baffled in Search for Man Who Shot Three Children

Believed that Shadow Black Hand Rests on Afflicted Families

(Special from United Press.) Utica, N. Y., Sept. 15.-Forty-eight ours' search by the police has failed develop any tangible clew bearing on the identity of the man who shot Theresa Procopia and Ferdinando Inusino to death in a ravine in this city Sunday night, and who shattered the arm of Fannie Infusino with a pistol

Rewards aggregating $3,250 have een offered for the apprehension of the assassin, but thus far these induce ments have accomplished nothing be ond bringing into the search a numer of amateur detectives whose activities have proved a positive hindrance to the police.

The police say that the outlook for the apprehension of the murderer is far from promising, owing to the reti-cence of the families of the victims, but the officers have not abandoned hope and after a night of ceaseless efort on the part of a squad of 25 po-lice and detectives, a fresh detail took up the hunt today.

Chief of Police Brophy and District Attorney Willis are more convinced than ever that Fannie Infusino, the single survivor of the three children shot by the assassin, can tell the name of the guilty person if she chooses to do so, and before noon they visited Paxton Hospital where she is recovering from the effects of the wounds, and by gentle questioning sought to draw from her a clew as to the idendraw from her a clew as to the identity of the murderer.

The little girl, propped up in a chair, elaborately told the details of her trip to the ravine and the circumstances of the murder of her brother and Theresa Procopia, but when Chief Brophy, smoothing the girl's brow, asked her to tell the name of the man who committed the crime, she said she could not do it. When Chief Brophy asked her to repeat to him the name of the murderer as she divulged it to Mrs. W. C. Gray immediately after the discovery of the plight of the children in the ravine, Fannie denied she had dethe ravine. Fannie denied she had declared to Mrs. Gray the identity of the reatly surprised at the attitude of the Infusino girl, for the authorities today are more than ever convinced that the shadow of the Black Hand rests on the members of the afflicted families and in terror of their own lives they are preserving a secretiveness which is baffling the police in their search and which promises to prevent a solution of the case. Sometimes when an insane man kills victim, he follows his act by killing The theory has been advanced that the assassin may have been a maniac and that he crawled into one of the culverts under the streets which cross the ravine where the crime occurred and there made away with himself. But the entire locality has been searched by the police and no trace of the murderer was discovered. Today the bodies of Theresa and Ferdinando were laid in their graves amid such scenes as are seldom witnessed in this city. Thousands of per-sons, representing all classes, gather-ed at the home from which the chil dren were lured to death. Following a brief service by a priest, the bodies were carried to St. Agnes' cemetery, the heartbroken relatives riding in car-riages and thousands of sympathizers following on foot to the place of burthe shooting. With all vehemence at his command, Infusino today declared that the statement of the police was untrue; that he said nothing to Fannie about keeping silent.

MILL STRIKE ENDS 5,000 Hands Compromise and Will Resume Work

Tomorrow

(Special from United Press.)
Fall River, Mass., Sept. 15.—As predicted exclusively by the United Press yesterday, the 5,000 striking weavers employed at the Iron Works Mills in this city, voted this morning to accept the five per cent. advance in wages offered by M. C. D. Borden, as a compromise, and will return to work to-morrow morning.

This offer was made at a conference held yesterday afternoon, following Mr. Borden's refusal to grant the full 10 per cent. demanded.

URGING FARMERS TO HOLD COTTON

(Special from United Press.) Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 15.—President Alexander of the North Carolina Far-mers' Union and Cotton and Tobacco Growers' Association, today issued a lengthy address, imploring the farmers to hold as much cotton as possible for better prices, instead of allowing Wall Street and Eastern speculators to buy it up and reap the benefits. He declares the cotton crop is the smallest in years and that the farmers now, by means of warehouse storage certificates, are able to secure all the advances they need without actually selling their cotton. The same advice is given to the tobacco growers. Mrs. William E. Seeley is still in a serious condition at her home, 651 State street. Mrs. Seeley suffered a shock about 10 days ago.

TAFT DEPARTS AMID CHEERS

Greeted by Thousands as He Leaves Boston on Long Journey

MAKES BRIEF ADDRESSES

(Special from United Press.) Boston, Sept. 15.-Amid the tumul tuous cheers of thousands assembled to witness his departure, President Taft started on his 13,000-mile journey through the West, and Southwest at 10:03 to-day, leaving the South Station in his private car Mayflowers, attached to the regular Albany express. The train was composed besides the private car of the President, occupied by himself and his military aide, Captain Butt, of the parlor car Haslemere, containing the rest of the President's party, of a steel baggage car, the private car of Assistant General Manager Eustis of the New York Central, and a day coach.

As the train drew out of the station, the President appeared upon the rear platfor mand waved a hearty good-bye and good luck to the multitude gathered at the station. During the two months' life on the wheels, the President's comfort will be looked after by Porter W. S. Anderson, Walter E. B. Letcher, and Cook N. A. Anderson. The latter is a Norwegian culinson. The latter is a Norwegian culin-ary expert in the employ of John Hays Hammond and is loaned to the Presi-Hammond and is loaned to the President for the trip as a special mark of friendship. Anderson, the porter, and Letcher, the waiter, have already traveled a number of thousands of miles with the President on previous trips. Although no formal program is arranged for before he reaches Chicago Thursday, it is probable that he will make a brief address at the various cities through which he passes.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 15.—The train bearing the President and party bulled into this station at 11:10, the pulled into this station at 11:10, the President having as a companion from Millbury, his venerable maiden aunt, Miss Delia Torrey, who left the train here. William Nelson Cromwell will be the guest of the President as far as Albany. When the train pulled out of the station, President Taft appeared upon the platform of his private tar and waved good-bye to the crowds assembled.
